Getting the Most from Hazus-MH

Excellence doesn't happen overnight, but FEMA's training courses will equip you with tools to deliver a knowledgeable plan of action back to your community. FEMA's Emergency Management Institute (EMI) in Emmitsburg, MD offers 3 ½ day classroom style training for Hazus-MH.

Enrollment for Hazus courses at EMI is free for federal, state, and local community officials. Complimentary housing considerations can be made for state and local community officials. Contact your State Training Officer to see if you qualify. Course participants are responsible for the cost of meals at approx. $60/week.

Courses provide hands-on training Hazus-MH tools, methodologies, and audience-specific applications (e.g., Flood Plain Managers). Students learn from experienced Hazus users and learn from their peers as well. Users may find more information about these courses http://www.fema.gov/hazus-training.

Training at EMI in 2012 & 2013

Course #	Course Title	Dates
E170	Hazus-MH for Hurricane	January 7-10, 2013
E172	Hazus-MH for Flood	December 3-6, 2012 May 13-16, 2013
E176	Hazus-MH for Floodplain Managers	March 18-21, 2013
E179	Application of Hazus-MH for Disaster Operations	January 28-31, 2013
E190	ArcGIS for Emergency Managers	October 29 – November 1, 2012
E296	Application of Hazus-MH for Risk Assessment	January 14-17, 2013 June 24-27, 2013
E313	Basic Hazus-MH	November 5-8, 2012 April 29 – May 2, 2013
E317	Comprehensive Data Management for Hazus-MH	February 4-7, 2013

For a full listing of course descriptions, prerequisites, enrollment information and fees visit www.training.fema.gov/EMI. For more information contact Phillip Moore at phillip.moore@dhs.gov.