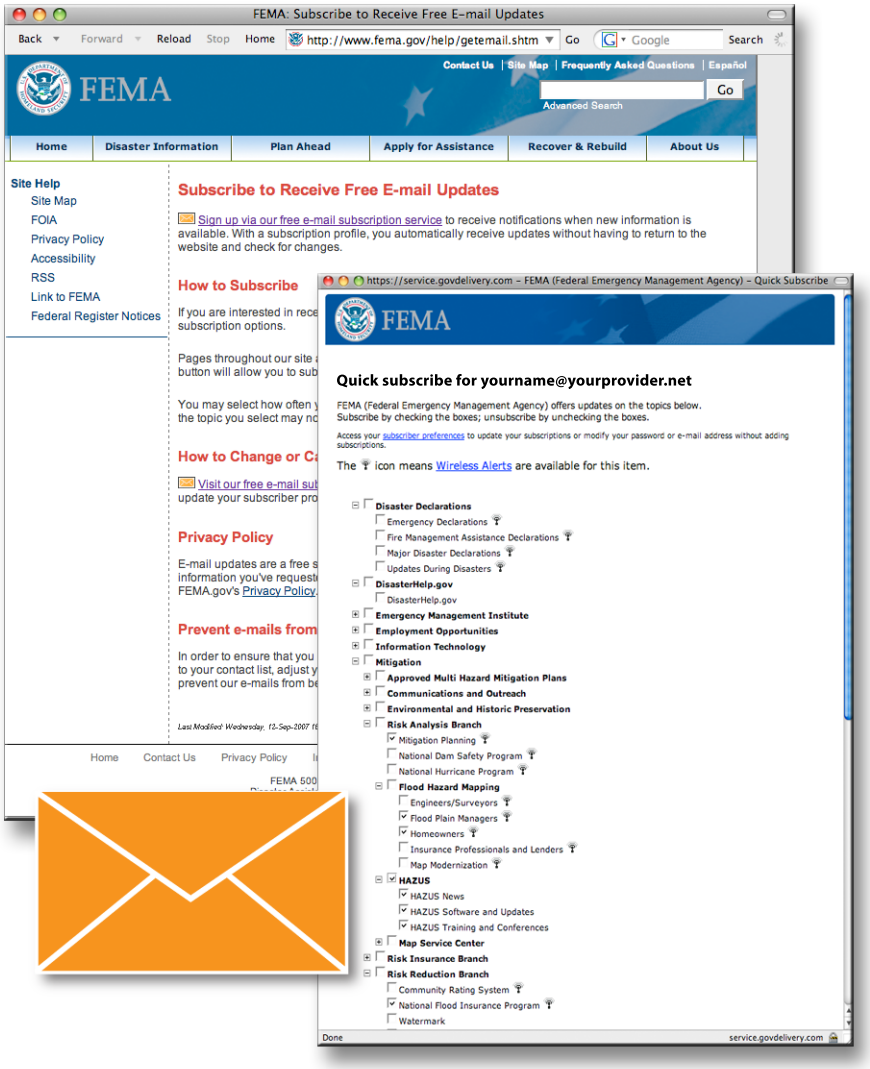
FEMA E-mail Updates: Fast, Free and Automatic!



Did You Know...

- You can now subscribe for online information from the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) and receive free e-mail updates on a variety of topics, sent directly to your computer's inbox!
- With individualized topic options, you will receive notifications as fast as new information becomes available.
- Once you establish a subscription profile, you will automatically receive updates without having to check the FEMA Web site for changes.

Subscribing is Easy!

If you are interested in receiving information from FEMA, simply visit http://www.fema.gov/help/getemail.shtm and create your personalized list of subscription options.

As you browse, you will notice that individual pages throughout the FEMA Web site also feature a button reading, "E-mail me when this page is updated." Clicking on this button will enable you to register for updates to that particular page and topic.

You may select how often you wish to be notified (immediately, daily, weekly, or monthly). Please note that the page you select may not be updated at each of those intervals, depending upon the topic.

Privacy Policy

E-mail updates are a free service provided by the Federal Emergency Management Agency. Your e-mail address will only be used to deliver the information you have requested and allow you to access your account.
