

FEMA Approves an Additional $4 Million for Colorado's COVID-19 Response

DENVER – FEMA has approved an additional $4 million in Public Assistance funding for the COVID-19 response in Colorado.

This most recent funding reimburses the Vail Clinic for rental and personal protective equipment, and contract labor and support used as emergency protective measures during the COVID-19 pandemic. These costs were incurred from January 20, 2020, to July 1, 2022.

FEMA has now approved more than $2 billion in Public Assistance grant funds to Colorado for their pandemic response.

These reimbursements play a critical role as state, tribal and local officials worked to assist their communities during their COVID-19 response. For more information about the Public Assistance program, visit:
