A Disaster Recovery Center in University City will permanently close Wednesday, November 2 at 5 p.m.

Centennial Commons (Recreation Center)

7210 Olive Blvd.

University City, MO 63130

One Disaster Recovery Center remains open to assist survivors directly affected by the July 25-28 flooding and severe storms:

Ranken Technical College

Mary Ann Lee Technology Center

1313 N. Newstead Ave.

St. Louis, MO 63113

(Near the corner of Newstead and Page)

Unless otherwise noted, recovery center hours are:

Monday – Friday, 8 a.m.– 6 p.m.

Saturday, 8 a.m. – 5 p.m.

Closed on Sundays

At the recovery centers, specialists from FEMA and the U.S. Small Business Administration are providing information on available services, explaining assistance programs and helping survivors complete or check the status of their applications.

Apply with FEMA online at DisasterAssistance.gov or call 800-621-FEMA (3362).

- If you need help applying, FEMA can assist you at a Disaster Recovery Center.
- No appointment is necessary to visit a Disaster Recovery Center. Walk-ins are welcome.
- People directly affected by flooding in St. Louis City, St. Louis County and St. Charles County may visit any recovery center for one-on-one help.

Reminder: the FEMA application deadline is November 7.
