

Beyond FEMA: Tennessee Disaster Recovery Resources

Release Date: Me 31, 2023

FEMA is only part of the recovery solution for most survivors of Tennessee's March 31 to April 1, 2023, tornadoes. Other government agencies and private voluntary and faith-based community organizations are available to help. FEMA's Voluntary Agency Liaison works with many of them to make sure survivors get the assistance they need. Below are community services available through the state and community groups:

Mental Health Care, Food, Furniture and Other Needs

United Way: Call 211. The 211 Helpline is a 24/7, 365-day information and referral helpline that provides individuals in need with help in times of crisis and beyond. Visit the website at TN211.myresourcedirectory.com.

For tornado assistance in your area, visit these United Way websites:

- United Way of Greater Nashville serves residents in 42 counties in Middle Tennessee including Hardeman, Hardin, Haywood and McNairy counties.
- United Way of Rutherford & Cannon Counties: The direct phone number for the office is 615-893-7303, but survivors are encouraged to first call the 211 Helpline.
- UW Midsouth.org serves Tipton County. Call 211 or the call center: 844-444-4211.

Mid-Cumberland Community Action Agency offers help with utility bills, rent or mortgage assistance, a food pantry and other needs. Visit MidCumberland.org.

Upper Cumberland Human Resources Agency offers help with utility bills, rent or mortgage assistance, a food pantry and other needs. Visit UCHRA.org.

Second Harvest Food Bank of Middle Tennessee: Search by ZIP code to Find a Food Bank Near Me. Visit Second Harvest MidTN.
