California Wildfires – Denial of Appeal

Denied on October 23, 2008

On August 19, 2008, Governor Arnold Schwarzenegger requested a major disaster declaration due to wildfires that began on May 22, 2008. The Governor requested a declaration for Individual Assistance and Public Assistance, including direct Federal assistance, for 11 counties and Hazard Mitigation for all counties. On September 5, 2008, the Governor’s request was denied. During the period of July 22-25, 2008, joint Federal, State, and local Preliminary Damage Assessments (PDAs) were conducted in the requested counties and are summarized below. PDAs estimate damages immediately after an event and are considered, along with several other factors, in determining whether a disaster is of such severity and magnitude that effective response is beyond the capabilities of the State and the affected local governments, and that Federal assistance is necessary.¹

On October 23, 2008, the Governor’s appeal for a major disaster declaration was denied based on the determination that the damage beyond that covered under FEMA-3287-EM was not of such severity and magnitude as to be beyond the combined capabilities of the State and affected local governments.²

1 The preliminary damage assessment (PDA) process is a mechanism used to determine the impact and magnitude of damage and resulting needs of individuals, businesses, public sector, and community as a whole. Information collected is used by the State as a basis for the Governor’s request for a major disaster or emergency declaration, and by the President in determining a response to the Governor’s request (44 CFR § 206.33).

2 When a Governor’s request for major disaster assistance under the Robert T. Stafford Disaster Relief and Emergency Assistance Act, as amended (Stafford Act) is under review, a number of primary factors are considered to determine whether assistance is warranted. These factors are outlined in FEMA’s regulations (44 CFR § 206.48). The President has ultimate discretion and decision making authority to declare major disasters and emergencies under the Stafford Act (42 U.S.C. § 5170 and § 5191).

3 Degree of damage to impacted residences:
   - Destroyed — total loss of structure, structure is not economically feasible to repair, or complete failure to major structural components (e.g., collapse of basement walls/foundation, walls, or roof);
   - Major Damage — substantial failure to structural elements of residence (e.g., walls, floors, foundation), or damage that will take more than 30 days to repair;
   - Minor Damage — home is damaged and uninhabitable, but may be made habitable in short period of time with repairs; and
   - Affected — some damage to the structure and contents, but still habitable.

4 By law, Federal disaster assistance cannot duplicate insurance coverage (44 CFR § 206.48(b)(5)).

5 The presence of special populations, such as low-income, the elderly, or the unemployed may indicate a greater need for assistance (44 CFR § 206.48(b)(3)).

6 Ibid (44 CFR § 206.48(b)(3)).
