Event Category:

Multi-Cultural

State:

Pennsylvania

Event Name:

Hispanic Outreach Plan

Event Description:

ReadyPA and Pennsylvania Citizen Corps worked with a private contractor to develop a Hispanic Outreach Plan. Our goals are to increase the level of emergency preparedness of Pennsylvania's Latinos; secure partnerships with non-profit community-based organizations to promote preparedness among their Latino constituents; recruit and train Spanish-speaking Latino volunteers and first responders; and maximize and/or supplement current Pennsylvania Citizen Corps and ReadyPA program resources and partnerships. The plan includes creative elements such as tabletop Home Emergency Kit Checklist Pads; Magnetic Home Emergency Kit Checklists; and Emergency Kit Canvas Bags for distribution. The plan also includes Wild Postings of a poster and take 1 Tabletop Home Emergency Kit Checklist in beauty salons and bodegas throughout Hispanic communities. We also intend to work with the Neighborhood Watch groups in communities to develop Emergency Watch Neighborhood Captains and train them in CERT. The intention was to develop this plan in National Preparedness Month and use it beyond that timeframe to include a growing overlooked population in Pennsylvania, as well as reiterate that emergency preparedness is important every month.

State:

Pennsylvania

Event Name:

National Preparedness Month Op-Ed

Event Description:

Director Robert P. French, in coordination with ReadyPA and Pennsylvania Citizen Corps, developed an Op-Ed piece for distribution in state newspapers for National Preparedness Month. The article is entitled "Disaster Preparation: Planning Beats Wishing" and discusses the results of a recent survey conducted by PEMA and Pennsylvania Citizen Corps. The results showed that more than 60% of Pennsylvania residents think it is "not very likely" or "not likely at all" that they will be affected by a disaster within the next three years. The Director also discusses other findings of the survey and explains to state residents what it means to Be Informed, Be Prepared, and Be Involved. The article ran in the Wilkes-Barre Times Leader on September 13; York Dispatch on September 14; Lebanon Daily News on September 15; Centre Daily Times on September 16; and the Erie Times-News on September 25.

Franklin County Evacuation Drill

Event Description:

Real-time training drill in an 18-hour mock evacuation. The scenario: A category 2 hurricane was moving inland with winds up to 150 mph and capable of moving a mobile home and was expected to hit the county in four hours. Residents of a mobile home park were in the direct path of the storm and needed to be evacuated to safety. CERT personnel were given the task of contacting all residents of the mobile home park to inform them of the need to evacuate their homes. They also provided information about where residents should seek shelter. CERT members recorded the names of people living at each residence so their whereabouts could be tracked. At the shelter, CERT personnel served as support to other participating agencies. CART personnel provided care for the residents' animals while they were at the shelter. The American Red Cross set up the shelter and provided bedding and food to the evacuees until the authorities deemed it safe for them to return to their homes.

CERT Tabletop Exercise

Event Description:

St. Petersburg CERT Team will be hosting a CERT Tabletop Exercise based on the scenario that a series of tornados have hit the area, including St. Petersburg. The assumption will be that all outside emergency response organizations are committed assisting with other communities and it may be days before outside assistance can reach the borough. The four main focus points for evaluation will be: 1) how the CERT team activates and organizes; 2) communications between the CERT team and emergency response agencies; 3) setting up a shelter; and 4) search and rescue.
