On Sunday, October 28, 2018, CNMI Leadership and the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) conducted a Post-Declaration Damage Assessment.

Saipan, Tinian and Rota experienced very heavy rainfall and extremely high winds which caused damages to homes, businesses and critical infrastructure. Utility infrastructure on all three islands has been visibly severely impacted to include downed power lines, transformers and poles. Driving conditions remain hazardous as debris removal operations are still underway.

At the request of Governor Ralph DLG. Torres, representatives from FEMA Individual Assistance (IA) and the US Small Business Administration (SBA) joined the CNMI on an Aerial Preliminary Damage Assessment of Saipan, Tinian and Rota.

Findings are as follows:

RELIEF ASSISTANCE

Relief assistance has arrived from our neighboring island of Guam, with assessment engineers from the Guam Power Authority starting work as early as

Sunday, October 28, 2018 to assist with power and water restoration.

The Calvo Tenorio administration has been working with federal and military partners, as well as with local agencies to extend assistance to the CNMI to assist with recovery efforts following Super Typhoon Yutu's devastation. "I have directed Guam Homeland Security/Office of Civil Defense to lead local government efforts as we look to helping our brothers and sisters to the north," Governor Eddie Calvo stated. "We know that many of the people who are working also have homes that may have been damaged or worse as the eye of the storm passed over the islands of Tinian and Saipan. We want to help fill some of that capacity – whether it is in clearing debris or restoring utilities and government functions – so that they can get back on their feet sooner." Approximately 140 Guam Guardsmen are expected to report on Monday and begin duty on Saipan as early as Tuesday or Wednesday of this week, for approximately 60 days. The Army Guard's 1224th Engineer Support Company is to assist with recovery efforts to include support of U.S. Indo-Pacific Command and FEMA as the lead federal agency in support of debris clearing missions in CNMI. Governor Eddie Calvo, recognizing the need in Tinian and Saipan, has given final approval for the Guam National Guard's support mission. Lt. Governor Ray Tenorio thanks the Guam National Guard personnel, as well as Government of Guam employees from the Guam International Airport, Guam Power Authority, and Guam Homeland Security/Office of Civil Defense for their work. "I want to thank all of the Guamanians who will be going to the CNMI to help, as well as all of those who remain here on Guam who are assisting with logistics and picking up additional duties to cover for your teammates who will be off island as part of recovery efforts," Lt Governor Ray Tenorio stated.

The Guam International Airport Authority this morning sent two senior airfield electricians to Saipan. The GIAA team will help the Saipan airport resume full operational capabilities.

Power Authority.

Support efforts are already producing results. Just four days post-landfall, CUC with the help of Guam Power Authority, Colorado Primary Source, the Dept. of Energy, FEMA and the Army Corps of Engineers, was able to restore power to Feeder 1, Partial 1 & 2 by Sunday at 4:35PM.

Feeder 1, Partial 1 & 2 feeds generation to the main line supplying the Commonwealth Healthcare Center and certain areas along Navy Hill, Upper Navy Hill (Chalan Galaide), Puerto Rico and Garapan.

Residents located on this Feeder are also back online. "We just went through one of the worst storms in history... a Category 5... and already, our crews were able to power-up one of the island's most critical infrastructure... this speaks volumes of the hard work and dedication our CNMI team has expended on such efforts," stated CUC Executive Director, Gary Camacho in an interview on KKMP this morning.

Residents living along Feeder 1, Partial 1 & 2 are being urged to disconnect their personal generators from the main circuit to prevent back feed. Failing to disconnect will lead to circuit burnouts.

Pre-paid residents living along this Feeder line, may purchase tokens at the Customer Center Payment Window. Hours of Operation are Mondays through Fridays from 10AM to 12PM. All other CUC offices are closed until further notice.

On Tinian, two generators have landed on-island, one to power the Maui water well to assist in pumping water into the Tinian Health Center, and another to assist with power generation into the island's only hospital. Power on Tinian remains 100 percent offline.

More updates will be reported as they are made available.
