

FEMA Offers Survivors Many Ways to Connect

Release Date: July 27, 2023

WILLISTON, VT – Federal funds are available for affected individuals who suffered damage to their homes or personal property caused by the July severe storms, flooding, landslides and mudslides in nine counties: Caledonia, Chittenden, Lamoille, Orange, Orleans, Rutland, Washington, Windham and Windsor.

FEMA is in the community, offering survivors many ways to apply for assistance and work with a FEMA representative about their case.

How to apply:

To apply for disaster assistance, survivors can:

- Visit DisasterAssistance.gov;
- Download the FEMA mobile app from the Apple App Store or Google Play Store;
- Call FEMA's toll-free helpline at 800-621-3362, open 7 a.m. to 11 p.m. Eastern Time and language translation is available. If you use a relay service such as video relay service (VRS), captioned telephone service or other services, give FEMA your number for that service when you apply; or
- Connect with FEMA in person at a Disaster Recovery Center, a Business Recovery Center, in your community canvassing door to door and at Multi-Agency Resource Centers located throughout the impacted area.

Disaster Recovery Centers (DRC)

Disaster Recovery Centers offer in-person support to individuals and small business owners. Recovery specialists from FEMA, the U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA), and additional resources are available to assist survivors.

- Two Disaster Recovery Centers are open in Rutland and Washington counties. The locations are:
 - ASA Bloomer Building, 88 Merchants Row, Rutland, VT 05701
 - Waterbury Armory, 294 Armory Drive, Waterbury, VT 05676
 - Barre Auditorium, 16 Auditorium Hill, Barre, VT 05641
 - Flood Brook School, 91 Vermont – 11, Londonderry, VT 05148

Additional locations will be announced as they become operational. DRC locations and hours of operations can be found here DRC Locator \(fema.gov/drc\).

The centers can:

- Provide assistance with filling out applications;
- Update the status of a survivor's application;
- Help submit additional documents to FEMA;
- Provide referral services to voluntary organizations who offer a variety of services to survivors; and
- Provide access to the U.S. Small Business Administration for loan help and customer service.

Multi-Agency Resource Centers (MARC):

A MARC is a single location where public and private organizations come together to help those affected by the disaster. MARCs are collaborative operations.

Disaster Survivor Assistance (DSA):

DSA teams from FEMA are going door-to-door in Vermont communities, canvassing neighborhoods and helping storm-affected residents apply for FEMA disaster assistance.

DSA crew members are visiting homes, schools, nonprofits and communities with limited access. They are also meeting with local officials and community leaders to identify disaster-related issues and unmet needs.

DSA teams can help survivors apply for assistance, update their information and assist with referrals to voluntary agency partners. They may give residents the opportunity to use a tablet to register or offer to enter information on their behalf. DSA staff wear a FEMA identification badge with their photograph.

U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA):

SBA has opened Business Recovery Centers (BRCs) in three locations to assist homeowners, renters, businesses of all sizes and nonprofit organizations who need help in applying for an SBA long-term, low-interest disaster loan:

- Washington County: 751 Granger Road Berlin, Vermont 05641
- Windsor County: 126 Main Street Ludlow, Vermont 05149
- Lamoille County: 29 Sunset Drive, Morrisville, VT 05661
