Preliminary Damage Assessment Report

Oglala Sioux Tribe – Severe Storms, Tornadoes, and Straight-line Winds Denial

Denied on September 18, 2018

On August 27, 2018, President Troy Scott Weston requested a major disaster declaration due to severe storms, tornadoes, and straight-line winds during the period of July 27-29, 2018. President Weston requested Individual Assistance and Hazard Mitigation for the Oglala Sioux Tribe. On August 9, 2018, joint federal, tribal, and local government Preliminary Damage Assessments (PDAs) were conducted in the requested areas and are summarized below. PDAs estimate damages immediately after an event and are considered, along with several other factors, in determining whether a disaster is of such severity and magnitude that effective response is beyond the capabilities of the tribe and the affected local governments, and that Federal assistance is necessary.

On September 18, 2018, President Weston's request for a major disaster declaration was denied based on the determination that the damage was not of such severity and magnitude as to warrant supplemental federal disaster assistance under the Stafford Act.<sup>1</sup>
