

Preliminary Damage Assessment Report

Seminole Tribe of Florida – Hurricane Ian FEMA-4675-DR

Declared September 30, 2022

On September 29, 2022, Chairman Marcellus W. Osceola, Jr. requested an expedited major disaster declaration due to Hurricane Ian beginning on September 23, 2022, and continuing. The Chairman requested a declaration for Individual Assistance; Public Assistance, including direct Federal assistance; and Hazard Mitigation for the Seminole Tribe of Florida and associated lands. This event was of the severity and magnitude that the need for supplemental Federal assistance was determined to be necessary prior to the completion of joint Federal, Tribe, and local government Preliminary Damage Assessments (PDAs). Per 44 C.F.R. § 206.33(d) and § 206.36(d), the requirement for a joint PDA may be waived for those incidents of such unusual severity and magnitude that formal field damage assessments are not required to establish the need for supplemental Federal assistance under the Stafford Act.<sup>1</sup>

On September 30, 2022, President Biden declared that a major disaster exists in the Seminole Tribe of Florida. This declaration made Individual Assistance requested by the Chairman available to affected individuals and households of the Seminole Tribe of Florida. This declaration also made assistance for debris removal and emergency protective measures (Categories A and B), including direct Federal assistance for the Seminole Tribe of Florida. Finally, this declaration made Hazard Mitigation Grant Program assistance requested by the Chairman available for hazard mitigation measures for the Seminole Tribe of Florida.<sup>2</sup>

<sup>1</sup> The Preliminary Damage Assessment (PDA) process is a mechanism used to determine the impact and magnitude of damage and resulting needs of individuals, businesses, public sector, and community as a whole. Information collected is used by the State as a basis for the Governor’s request for a major disaster or emergency declaration, and by the President in determining a response to the Governor’s request (44 CFR § 206.33).

<sup>2</sup> When a Governor’s request for major disaster assistance under the Robert T. Stafford Disaster Relief and Emergency Assistance Act, as amended (Stafford Act) is under review, a number of primary factors are considered to determine whether assistance is warranted. These factors are outlined in FEMA’s regulations (44 CFR § 206.48). The President has ultimate discretion and decision making authority to declare major disasters and emergencies under the Stafford Act (42 U.S.C. § 5170 and § 5191).

- Destroyed – total loss of structure, structure is not economically feasible to repair, or complete failure to major structural components (e.g., collapse of basement walls/foundation, walls or roof);
- Major Damage – substantial failure to structural elements of residence (e.g., walls, floors, foundation), or damage that will take more than 30 days to repair;
- Minor Damage – home is damaged and uninhabitable, but may be made habitable in short period of time with repairs; and
- Affected – some damage to the structure and contents, but still habitable.

<sup>4</sup> By law, Federal disaster assistance cannot duplicate insurance coverage. 42 U.S.C. § 5155 and 44 C.F.R. § 206.48(b)(5).

<sup>5</sup> Special populations, such as low-income, the elderly, or the unemployed may indicate a greater need for assistance. 44 C.F.R. § 206.48(b)(3).
