CERT (Community Emergency Response Team)

CERT Best Practices: COVID-19 Vaccine POD Support

Across the US, Vaccine Points of Dispensing (PODs) were working hard to support their communities. Many of these sites were short-staffed and looking for volunteers to help. To help CERTs become better prepared for this opportunity, FEMA Region 2’s National Preparedness Division partnered with the National CERT Association to host a COVID-19 Vaccine POD support webinar. During the webinar, there were presentations from county logistic leads who coordinate staffing support, and CERT program managers who had been activated to support Vaccine PODs. This webinar is for anyone who is interested in supporting Vaccine PODs, including CERT program managers, CERT volunteers and other partners.

Developing and Organizing your CERT Team to the Max: Best of CERT 2021 Conference

The FEMA Region 2 National Preparedness Division partnered with the State of California Office of Emergency Services (Cal OES), and the National CERT Association (NCA) to host a nationwide series highlighting unique presentations from the 2021 National CERT Conference. This webinar featured Lisa Rubey from the New Braunsfel CERT and discussed how to bring your CERT Team to the next level and maximize your CERT strengths.

Disasterville: Best of CERT 2021 Conference

Presented by James Ray (Utah Division of Emergency Management). Disasterville is an out of the box idea that provides a fun interactive experience that CERT programs can use to strengthen community buy-in, recruit for CERT training, refresh CERT skills and build stronger relationships between the public and professional first responders.

FEMA Resource Typing for CERT Overview and Q&A

The FEMA Region 2 National Preparedness Division partnered with the State of California Office of Emergency Services (Cal OES), and the National CERT Association (NCA) to host a webinar on the FEMA Resource Typing for CERT, released in August 2021. FEMA has released National Qualification System (NQS) Job Titles/Position Qualifications and Position Task Books (PTBs) for three CERT positions include:

- CERT Team Leader- a volunteer part of a CERT who directs team activities
- CERT Chief- a volunteer who is responsible for a specific functional area within the CERT CERT Volunteer- a volunteer who is a part of a CERT and trains in basic disaster response skills, such as fire safety, light search and rescue, team organization and disaster medical operations

During the first part of the webinar, the FEMA CERT Office gave an overview of the Resource Typing for CERT, guidance from FEMA on implementation, and answer questions. During the second part of the webinar, the National CERT Association shared how it will be supporting this effort by implementing credentialing lookup through the NCA Member ID card and establishing a national CERT Resource Typing workgroup.

Get Involved: Join CERT Today
This webinar discussed how to engage with your local Community Emergency Response Team (CERT) to help respond to nearby disasters and emergency needs. FEMA's Federal Citizen Responder Lead discussed the CERT program and how you can locate a team in your area. He was joined by the president of the newly formed, non-profit, National CERT Association who spoke about their role as a clearinghouse for information. Speakers also shared virtual training opportunities being offered by the University of Utah.

Restart and Rejuvenate your CERT Program After COVID-19
The FEMA Region 2 National Preparedness Division partnered with the State of California and the National CERT Association (NCA) to host a nationwide webinar. The purpose of this webinar was to provide some tips and best practices on returning to typical CERT activities and to help CERT programs re-engage their community and members. CERT program leaders from around the country shared how they are re-engaging with volunteers as life begins to return to normal.

Search and Rescue, Lost Person Behavior: Best of CERT 2021 Conference
The FEMA Region 2 National Preparedness Division partnered with the State of California Office of Emergency Services (Cal OES), and the National CERT Association (NCA) to host a nationwide series highlighting unique presentations from the 2021 National CERT Conference. Presented by Dr. Robert Koester. Lost person behavior is the cornerstone of search and rescue efforts. Based upon a landmark study, Dr. Koester outlines a definitive guide to solving the puzzle of where a lost person might be found.

The Past, Present and Future of CERT

To honor the achievements of Frank Borden, FEMA Region 2 National Preparedness Division partnered with the State of California and the National CERT Association (NCA) to host a nationwide webinar on the Past, Present and Future of CERT (Community Emergency Response Team). We celebrated the memory of Frank Borden, the “Father of CERT”. As the deputy Fire Chief at the Los Angeles City Fire Department, Frank led the creation of the CERT program in 1985 and graduated the first class of community members in 1986. This webinar was followed by presentations from FEMA and other CERT leaders on the current landscape of the CERT program. We ended the webinar with presentations that discuss where the CERT program is going and what we can look forward to.

Children, Youth and Families

Back to School for Young Children: COVID-19 Preparedness & Supporting the Transition

Transitioning back to early childhood programs or school – or starting them for the first time – can create extra challenges during a pandemic. Angelika Claussen, Research Psychologist with the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) described what early childhood care and education program administrators, teachers, and parents can do to help children make a successful transition to in-person learning and care. Glen Karpovich, Emergency Management Specialist of the Region 2 Administration for Children and Families (ACF) discussed how to prepare students for returning to the classroom in a COVID-19 environment.

Best Practices for Teaching Youth about Preparedness Online
The Region 2 and Region 8 National Preparedness Divisions co-hosted a webinar on how to engage youth virtually in preparedness activities during the COVID-19 pandemic. This webinar featured a discussion on FEMA programs and other resources that encourage youth to take preparedness actions and explore careers in emergency management. Speakers discussed how to engage youth in school communities and youth-serving organizations to support participation in preparedness activities.

Prepare Kids for Emergencies with Pedro the Penguin
Prepare with Pedro is an education program created by FEMA and the American Red Cross, featuring Pedro the Penguin as he travels across the U.S. and teaches kids how to prepare and take action for local hazards. Members of the Region 2 Youth Preparedness Council presented on the Prepare with Pedro program and highlighted available resources for educators, parents and guardians. Youth Preparedness Council members also showcased videos they produced on different hazards, with preparedness tips and lessons designed for young children.

Reporting Child Abuse in New Jersey
April is Child Abuse Prevention Month, a time to raise awareness of child abuse and the steps to prevent it. Children are at a higher risk of abuse and neglect during emergencies including the COVID-19 pandemic. The Region 2 National Preparedness Division invited guest speakers from the New Jersey Department of Children and Families to discuss how and when to report child abuse and neglect in New Jersey, and what occurs when cases are assigned for an investigation. Speakers provided an overview of their work with children, youth and families when there is a need for continued agency involvement.

School Safety: Involving Students in Creating Safer Schools
The Region 2 and Region 5 National Preparedness Divisions delivered a webinar on how you can resolve to be ready in 2021 by involving students in creating safer schools. Topics covered included FEMA’s Student Tools for Emergency Planning program and other ways to empower youth to be preparedness leaders in their schools.

Recording link: https://fema.connectsolutions.com/pxp2c8q6hmd1/

Student Tools for Emergency Planning (STEP) Rollout with Region 5
This webinar was a collaboration between FEMA Regions 2, 5, 6 and the Individual and Community Preparedness Division. STEP is an emergency preparedness course designed for students in fourth grade and above, with fun activities that can be used inside and outside of school. The program guides students on how to create emergency kits and family communication plans, while also teaching about specific hazards. Wyatt Reed discussed how he implemented the STEP program in Arkansas as a Youth Preparedness Council member. Andrew Beckett of Wisconsin Emergency Management discussed the best practices of teaching STEP in his state.
Youth Preparedness: Councils, Programs, Camps
The Region 2 and Region 6 National Preparedness Divisions showed how you can involve youth in preparedness to create a more resilient community. FEMA Region 6 Community Preparedness Officer Bill Bischof facilitated a discussion on how to grow youth preparedness through youth preparedness councils and camps with guest speakers Gary Ragen from the Arkansas Department of Emergency Management and James LeClair the Emergency Manager from the Otoe Missouria Tribe of Indians, who formed the first tribal youth preparedness council.

Communications

Broadband 101 Plus
The Region 2 National Preparedness Division presented a webinar on broadband internet and expanding access and connection to rural communities. Don Williams, BroadbandUSA, National Telecommunications and Information Administration, laid the foundation for and reviewed the basics of broadband networks, including key terminology and the speeds necessary for quality of service. Multiple types of technologies including coax, DSL, fixed wireless, mobile and satellite were discussed. The session concluded with a conversation on the economic, social, and educational impacts that broadband access can have at the local level.

Community Based Emergency Communication Hubs
The Region 2 and Region 10 National Preparedness Divisions presented this webinar on how you can resolve to be ready in 2021 by forming emergency communications hubs within your community. After a major disaster, people will gather to help each other and try to get information. The Seattle Emergency Communications Hubs talked about how they establish locations and organize volunteers to lead those efforts at the ground level while the larger first responder and government activities get underway. Discussion covered what the hubs do, how they attract and train volunteers and how they work to engage the whole community in those efforts.

Recording link: https://fema.connectsolutions.com/p6f57vrz1si5/

Effective Use of Amateur Radio Volunteers in County Emergency Operations
The Region 2 National Preparedness Division highlighted how amateur radio volunteers can be utilized before, during and after disasters. Amateur or “HAM” radio has proven to be indispensable in the aftermath of hurricanes Harvey, Irma, Katrina, Michael and Maria. Historically, amateur radio has been a valuable resource in the Response and Recovery phases of many disasters, providing expedient communications when standard public safety and commercial telecommunications infrastructure has been severely impacted or completely overwhelmed. This webinar discussed the Amateur Radio Relay League (ARRL) and ARES® (Amateur Radio Emergency Service) and how these volunteers can assist emergency managers before, during and after disasters.
Getting Started: Roadmap for Planning a Broadband Infrastructure Project
Don Williams, BroadbandUSA, National Telecommunications and Information Administration, shared guidance and tips derived from their expertise with broadband planning. This session helped in identifying new opportunities for partnerships and collaborations that can help spur community achievement and growth. Topics included assessing broadband needs, state, local or regional plans, Inventory Assets, identifying gaps and needs, engaging stakeholders, evaluating technology options for digital inclusion and infrastructure, examining organizational models.

Internet Access for Older Citizens and Others with Access and Functional Needs
In this webinar, the Region 2 National Preparedness Division reviewed opportunities and issues concerning internet access to address the needs of older citizens, persons with disabilities, and others with access and functional needs. An expert panel discussed internet access in the rural areas of the continental United States and Puerto Rico. The Administration for Community Living (ACL) and Asociación Mayagüezana de Personas con Impedimentos (AMPI) Inc. led the discussion. Older Adults Technology Services (OATS) discussed “Aging Connected” a national cross sector campaign that aims to bridge the digital divide and help older adults access essential social services, the online community and more through affordable and accessible internet services.

NJOHSP Shield
This special National Preparedness Month webinar discussed how public private partnerships at the city, county, and state level can enhance emergency management coordination. This webinar introduced the Private-Public partnership programs of New York City, The State of New Jersey, and Suffolk County, NY that strengthen collaboration and information sharing by enhancing communication between homeland security representatives, law enforcement officials, and private or public-sector managers of security, emergency management, and business continuity. These programs serve as a centralized location for members to obtain counterterrorism, cybersecurity, and emergency preparedness information and resources.

Opportunity Knocks, Engaging Residential Building Owners and Residents in Emergency Planning and Outreach
This webinar explored how emergency planning can benefit and be expanded through increased outreach to the residential building community. Representatives from emergency management, housing, and fire in NYC discussed the results of their multi-year planning effort that expanded the Fire Code to require the distribution of an apartment building all hazard emergency guide and checklist, new required signage, and notifications in residential buildings during weather hazards, and new messaging to buildings by multiple city agencies. This session discussed the need to improve communication between buildings staff and residents as well as recognizing the dynamics faced in reaching out to the private residential building community.

Powerful Presentations: Deep Dive Session on Storytelling
FEMA Region 2 hosted a series of communications webinars covering techniques to improve public speaking skills on emergency management topics. Each session took a deep dive into a presentation element in a fully interactive environment where the audience will have a significant role. In this session, audiences learned how to add stories in presentations to make the complex understandable and relate core messages to inspire action. A good storyteller can deliver narratives to fully engage audiences. Watch this webinar to learn how to hone your skills by understanding both the technical aspects and artform of storytelling.

Powerful Presentations: Delivering Well-Crafted Answers
FEMA Region 2 hosted a series of communications webinars covering techniques to improve upon public speaking skills on emergency management topics. Each session takes a deep dive into a presentation element in a fully interactive environment where the audience will have a significant role. This installment was on skillfully addressing questions. Techniques were shared and strategies discussed on how to deliver a well thought out response. Skillfully delivered answers can get audiences to an “a-ha” moment, helping fill gaps in their understanding. As with the other sessions, volunteers demonstrated some of the lessons.

Access and Functional Needs

Active Shooter Guidance for Disability Service Providers
The Region 2 National Preparedness Division invited Sergeant Juan Antonio Maldonado from the New York City Police Department and Andrew Perlman from New York City Emergency Management to go over actions a disability service provider can take to plan for emergencies to ensure the safety of staff and clients. They went over what to do in an active shooter situation, how to drill and assess vulnerabilities, and the role of law enforcement.

Recording link: https://fema.connectsolutions.com/psdc3ud68nw6/

Children with Disabilities and Special Healthcare Needs
FEMA Region 2 National Preparedness Division partnered with experts in the fields of pediatrics and emergency preparedness to host a webinar highlighting the unique efforts required to prepare children with disabilities and special healthcare needs for emergencies. This webinar discussed how children with disabilities and special healthcare needs are impacted by emergencies, current best practices in the emergency management field, and how parents, caretakers, or school administrators can integrate children with disabilities and special healthcare needs into their emergency plans.

Emergency Management Preparedness Manual for People with Disabilities
The National Preparedness Division from the Puerto Rico Caribbean Area Office for FEMA Region 2 in partnership with the Puerto Rico Core Advisory Groups (PR CAGS) provided Part 2 of the Emergency Management Preparedness Manual for People with Disabilities. Participants had the opportunity to receive detailed information and clarify their concerns and challenges when providing services to people with disabilities in times of disaster. Betzaida Ramirez and Myrainne Roa from MAVI/Puerto Rico Core Advisory Groups provided specific strategies for identifying where emergency plans typically fall short for people with disabilities and alternatives on how to make emergency plans more inclusive. Ultimately, participants received the information required to review and update their emergency plans to ensure EVERYONE's safety in the face of future disasters.

Exploring the Why, What, and How of Qualified Sign Language Interpreters in Emergency Management
The FEMA Region 2 National Preparedness Division and the Caribbean Area Office of Puerto Rico collaborated on this webinar on how to integrate sign language interpreters in emergency management. This webinar covered the basics of incorporating sign language into emergency management. Why is it important to provide sign interpreters? Who is the audience? What are the characteristics of a qualified interpreter? When do I provide interpreting services? How do I work with an interpreter?

Puerto Rico Core Advisory Groups (CAGs)
Learn about the Why, How, and Who of the Puerto Rico CAG’s from the Region 2 National Preparedness Division. The presenters discussed lessons learned after the impacts of Hurricanes Irma and Maria and how they became the cornerstone in the implementation of this initiative. Learn about importance of promoting whole community inclusive emergency management by encouraging collaboration and partnerships between disability stakeholders and emergency managers before, during, and after a disaster. Presenters shared their experiences working with FEMA and the Emergency Management Bureau in Puerto Rico, supporting people with disabilities and others with Access and Functional Needs; especially post-Tropical Storm Isaias and during COVID-19.

Ready Seniors
Increasingly, frail older adults with complex health issues live alone in the community, far from their relatives and caregivers. An older adult may depend upon community service providers for basic necessities and psychosocial support prior to a disastrous event. However, the need for these critical services increases when services are disrupted, or the senior is impacted during a major disaster. FEMA Region 2 and the Administration for Community Living partnered to address this disparity through a workshop aimed at preparing Area Agencies on Aging (AAAs) and other organizations that provide critical support services to senior citizens in their communities.

The Region 2 National Preparedness Division highlighted the importance of getting the COVID-19 vaccine in this webinar. This webinar discussed how individuals and organizations can build confidence in the COVID-19 vaccine among their families, friends and communities. Speakers from CDC discussed how to have effective conversations about the vaccine, best practices to address vaccine hesitancy and how individuals can talk about their vaccine experience. A doctor, nurse, Pastor, teacher and fireman from the Region 2 community shared their stories about COVID-19 and vaccination and why they think it is important to get vaccinated.

Healthy Homes
The FEMA Region 2 National Preparedness Division in partnership with the US Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) co-hosted a webinar about Healthy Homes. Working closely with a wide range of local stakeholders, HUD’s Office of Lead Hazard Control and Healthy Homes has developed multiple new publications on implementing healthy homes’ concepts and practices, customized for the U.S. Virgin Islands and Puerto Rico. The English webinar provided an overview of all the publications including why these guides were developed and how they can be used. The Spanish webinar had a particular focus on the guides developed specifically for Puerto Rico.

Healthy Meal Plan for Emergencies
The Region 2 National Preparedness Division and its Caribbean Area Office presented a webinar about nutritional guidelines to take into consideration when preparing for emergencies. Satisfying and nutritional food is important to have during an emergency so you can stay as healthy as possible. This is even more important for people with chronic conditions or other underlying conditions. Dr. Nivia A. Fernandez, president of the Puerto Rico Food and Nutrition Commission presented the guidance document “Healthy Meal Plan for Emergencies in Puerto Rico” which provides useful information on emergency menu planning, food shopping list, food storage, water and essential products and much more to be as healthy as possible during emergencies. Although developed for Puerto Rico, this information is relevant for everyone.

What You Need to Know About COVID-19 Funeral Assistance
The FEMA Region 2 National Preparedness Division in partnership with the Individual Assistance Branch reviewed FEMA’s COVID-19 Funeral Assistance in this webinar. FEMA understands the financial stress and burden this pandemic has caused families and is willing to assist with the financial needs. On April 12, FEMA began implementing Funeral Assistance nationwide to provide financial support for funeral costs specifically related to Coronavirus Disease (COVID-19). This webinar provided information regarding the implementation of this new policy and guidance on applicability, conditions of eligibility, required documentation, and other important topics.

Small Businesses
Organizations Preparing for Emergency Needs (OPEN)
Businesses that are unable to sustain operations during an emergency incident exponentially impact individuals and the community who rely on them. The Organizations Preparing for Emergency Needs (OPEN) program offers a ten-step action plan for essential community economic and social resilience. In this webinar, participants learned how to use OPEN in their organization to identify risks, locate resources, and consider immediate preparedness actions. This webinar was designed to help attendees understand the steps, and lead their own staff or community in business preparedness action.

Programa Nacional de Seguros contra Inundación (NFIP) y Operación de Daño Sustancial

La Rama de Manejo de Valles Inundables y Seguros de la División de Mitigación de la Oficina del Caribe en PR de FEMA Region 2, en colaboración con la Oficina de Recuperación Conjunta de FEMA en Puerto Rico y la Junta de Planificación de Puerto Rico coordinaron una serie de seminarios virtuales sobre el Programa Nacional de Seguros contra Inundación (NFIP). Durante la temporada de huracanes, es importante orientar y alertar a los manejadores de emergencia locales y estatales los sobre el NFIP ya que este programa fue creado para contrarrestar los efectos de inundaciones, las cuales son el riesgo natural que mayor impacto tiene en nuestra comunidad. Este seminario web fue una introducción al NFIP que explica la función e importancia del programa; los roles y responsabilidades de oficiales de gobierno a nivel local, estatal y federal; información básica sobre el manejo de valles inundables; los beneficios del programa, incluyendo el seguro de inundación; y los requerimientos del programa. En adición, una porción del seminario se enfocó en la introducción de la operación de Daños Sustanciales a nivel local, lo cual es un requerimiento esencial del programa. Durante una emergencia, es importante que los manejadores de emergencias de las distintas dependencias entiendan los requerimientos y beneficios del programa de manera que puedan orientar y comunicar información relevante a la comunidad, a la vez que se apoyan mutuamente en sus respectivos roles.
